

Chapter 7 Outcomes Checklist

Include a valid example or definition for each I Can outcome.

I can . . .	Not Really	Somewhat	Yes, Very Well	Example or Definition
I can appreciate and explain that because Canada is a democracy, all Canadians have rights.
I can appreciate and explain the important role of the Charter of Rights and Freedoms in protecting both group and individual rights.
I can appreciate and explain that it is important for people to be actively involved in their community.
I can appreciate and explain how laws, government decisions, and events from the past affect how decisions are made in the Canadian government today.
I can explain how the Treaty of La Grande Paix de Montréal dealt with group rights and identity.
I can explain the similarities and differences in the way the Charter of Rights and Freedoms and the Treaty of La Grande Paix de Montréal dealt with identity and rights of individuals and groups.

I can explain how the courts in Canada work to make sure our rights are protected.
I can explain how the Charter of Rights and Freedoms protects the rights of all people.
I can explain how the Charter of Rights and Freedoms protects the rights of all groups in Canada.
I can explain the importance of including the Charter of Rights and Freedoms in the Canadian Constitution.
I can explain how people and groups can get involved and have a say in decisions about current events or issues that may affect them.
I can explain how people are chosen to be representatives in the provincial government.
I can think about different ideas and opinions and evaluate them.
I can re-evaluate my own opinion to better understand a topic or issue.

I can work with others or by myself to think of new ideas.
I can use examples of events to show I understand cause and effect and change over time.
I can use primary sources to interpret historical events and issues.
I can explain the situation surrounding important events in history.
I can use technology to organize information in a variety of ways.
I can consider perspectives of other people when dealing with an issue or problem.
I can use a variety of technological tools to help me sort, organize, classify, and extend data.
I can work with, listen to, and share with others in order to complete a task.

I can use technology to record the ideas and information that have been generated by a group.
I can use technology to organize information into logical files.
I can choose appropriate technological tools to show connections among pieces of information.
I can create questions to assist with the research process.
I can reach and support conclusions based on the information I have gathered to answer a research question.
I can discuss differing points of view about an issue in order to persuade my audience.
I can use technology to access a given URL and retrieve information from the Internet about an assigned topic.
I can select appropriate ways to present opinions, perspectives, and information to meet the needs of my audience.

I can provide reasons for my opinions both orally and in writing.
I can listen courteously to others in order to understand their thoughts and ideas.
I can recognize and evaluate different points of view on a topic that has been presented in the media.
I can co-operate with others in order to reach agreement.
I can demonstrate respect for differences when responding to comments or answering questions.
I can explore and evaluate important current events.
I can use a variety of methods to organize and interpret information.
I can use scales to determine the distance between places on maps and globes.

I can use compass directions to locate places on maps and globes.
---	--	--	--	--